New Rush Starts For Air Passage From Shanghai

Report Gunfire Shakes Windows In Great City Of Shanghai Today

ONLY ESCAPE ROUTE LEFT IS BY PLANE (BULLETIN)

SHANGHAI, May 14.—(Censored)—Gunfire shook windows in Shanghai today, and residents of the city started a new mad rush for air passage to south China to escape Communist armies rapidly closing in on the port.

Government troops manned defenses on the city's immediate outskirts, and prepared for battle against the Communists who are within 10 miles of Shanghai.

Only Escape Route
Escape by air was the only certain route open to the 6,000,000 persons in Shanghai, following a government order suspending all rail service. The sea route is menaced by a Communist force near the mouth of the Whangpoo river. British Consul-General R. W. Urquhart offered Britons wishing to leave Shanghai air or sea transportation to Hong Kong, and said his offer might be their only chance to leave "until the situation is clarified."

Communist troops seemed bent on severing the last water exit from Shanghai before a final assault to capture the city.

Admit Reds Near
The Shanghai garrison admitted that Communist forces are near Lotien, nine miles northwest of Shanghai.

PA NEWS & OBSERVES
City workmen have installed a new one way traffic sign at the intersection of Cochran Way and Sycamore Alley opposite the ruins of Central Presbyterian church. The sign was placed there in an effort to eliminate a traffic tie-up which occurs at the intersection daily.

Local radio soap box opera fans were affected somewhat by the explosion in the Holland tunnel at New York yesterday afternoon. In the midst of their dramas, all net-work programs were cut for some time due to long distance lines and radio wires being cut off.

Night flying has increased over the past few evenings. Numerous local pilots have taken to the air during the late hours of the evening. The city presents quite a sight from the air at night it is learned from those who have made the trip.

Numerous local vacationers who are fortunate enough to own a motor boat or hand rowed boat have been seen over the past few days getting their water craft ready for extended trip to the lake districts. Paint is being freely applied to the boats in order to give them that fresh look.

Condition of the Neshannock creek in the Neshannock Falls area looked rather unfamiliar to Pa. New, Friday evening, and it appears that a hole has been developed in the dam, which has allowed the water to reach a low stage above the dam.

Wheat in Lawrence County fields seems to be coming along unusually fast. One field was noted where it appeared that wheat was beginning to head.

Some of the local farming operations these days remind one of conditions found out in the prairie states, during dry weather. Clouds of dust are seen arising in many places.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., May 14.—(INS)—East and west bound trains of the Pennsylvania railroad were delayed today by a wreck of a 101 car freight train at 6:50 a. m. EDT about three miles from Huntingdon.

Report McCloy May Take Post

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(INS)—World Bank President John J. McCloy is reliably reported today to have decided on accepting the post as first civilian high commissioner of the U. S. zone in Germany.

This was coupled with information that Thomas K. Finletter, Philadelphia attorney and head of the Economic Cooperation Administration mission to England, will succeed McCloy as world bank president.

The move also indicates that the army is preparing to hand over to the state department its governing powers in Germany.

It is anticipated that this will be done about July 15, provided there are no "hitches" due to the big four meeting which gets underway May 23 in Paris.

Now that Russia has lifted the Berlin blockade the time is thought to be ripe for the move.

Officers Board Ship To Secure Gerhard Eisler

Expect Fugitive Communist Will Be Taken Off For Return To U. S.

SOUGHT TO ESCAPE U. S. AS STOWAWAY (BULLETIN)

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., May 14.—(INS)—The Polish motorship Battery, carrying top Communist Gerhard Eisler on an attempted flight to Germany, anchored off Southampton this afternoon and Scotland Yard men who boarded the ship returned without him.

There was no immediate explanation as to why the fugitive from the United States was allowed to remain on board.

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., May 14.—The Polish motorship Battery, carrying top Communist Gerhard Eisler on an attempted flight to Germany, anchored off Southampton this afternoon and Scotland Yard men who boarded the ship returned without him.

Detective Inspector W. E. Bray of Scotland Yard, who had left Southampton some hours earlier by tender, boarded the ship for an interview with the alleged Communist agent who skipped $23,500 bail and stowed away on the luxury liner in New York.

Bray was accompanied by a United States embassy official, May Remove Him

Reliable sources said they planned to remove him from the ship and take him to Southampton headquarters for a special session of the magistrate's court.

At the session it was learned, the agent will ask that Eisler be remanded to Bow street magistrate's court, in London where a request will be made for extradition of the so-called "number one American Communist" to the United States.

Eisler's wife, Brunhilde is being held without bail at Ellis Island on a deportation warrant. FBI agents want to question her on her husband's escape as well as on the charge that she is in the United States illegally.

Eisler jumped $23,500 bail while appealing convictions for contempt of Congress and passport fraud. He paid for first class passage to Gdynia, Poland after stowing away on the ship.

NEW YORK, May 14.—(INS)—Salvage crews toiled in the wreckage-strewn Holland tunnel today, after laboring through the night to restore traffic and communications despite the danger of new explosions.

A second series of blasts sent workers gasping out of the fume-choked tube that links New York and New Jersey last night, but fortunately failed to add to the list of almost 70 injured in the morning fire and explosion.

The tubes ventilating system, unaffected by the blasts, cleared the atmosphere sufficiently for some 150 workers to wade through the ankle-deep sludge, made dangerous by jagged chunks of concrete and slippery tile.

Navy Secretary

WASHINGTON:—As announced by the White House Friday, Francis P. Matthews (above), Omaha Lawyer and Banker, to be Secretary of the Navy.

Explanation Of Eisler's Flight Being Sought

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(INS)—A House spy probe declared today that Attorney General Clark should be required to explain to Congress why Gerhard Eisler was able to flee the country.

Rep. Nixon (R. Calif., a member of the House Un-American Activities committee, accused the Justice department for failing to keep a stricter watch over the Communist agent who stowed away on a European-bound ship.

Eisler, facing two jail sentences in this country, was at liberty under bonds totaling $25,500. He has been accused as the "Number 1 Communist Agent" in the United States.

Minneapolis Police Probing Shooting Of Cleveland Salesman

Check Conflicting Stories Of 20-Year-Old Nurse Who Admitted Shooting

MINNEAPOLIS, May 14.—(INS)—Minneapolis police checked conflicting stories today in search of a motive for the critical shooting of a Cleveland magazine salesman by a 20-year-old nurse.

The nurse, Miss Margaret Ann Coverdale, was reported by police to have confessed shooting Robert Oaks, 23-year-old ex-marine, when he "made improper advances" to her.

Police Inspector Eugene Bernath said Miss Coverdale apparently was under the influence of narcotics at the time of her arrest, and that authorities found vials of sleeping pills in her possession.

Oaks was reported in "critical" condition with a bullet wound just below the heart. Police said he also was hit over the head with a bottle.

U. N. General Assembly For Freedom Of Press

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., May 14.—(INS)—The United Nations General Assembly overwhelmingly approved a convention for freedom of the press early today despite vigorous Russian objections.

The six Soviet bloc nations voted together in opposition but were swamped by the ballots of 33 other member states.

Weary from three consecutive sessions, the delegates staggered out of the huge assembly hall and hurried to their homes for a few hours rest before returning to Flushing Meadows to consider the question of Franco Spain.

The convention which must be ratified by the individual U. N. states grants newsmen freedom of movement into and within all signatory nations, and equal access to all news sources. The convention also protects correspondents from discriminatory restrictions.

It also guards correspondents against expulsion because of "any lawful exercise of their right" to report news.

The convention prohibits censorship, editing or delaying of news, except in time of war or on matters of national defense.

Embodied in the convention is "the right of correction," which gives governments the right to furnish their own version of news if it feels a correspondent distorted. In the event this right is exercised, the government of the correspondent in question is required to release the "corrected" version to all news disseminating organizations.

However, the publication of such a release is not mandatory.

Shoots Girl Friend, Commits Suicide

MILFORD, Conn., May 14.—(INS)—A jealousy-crazed 22-year-old Milford man shot and critically wounded his 17-year-old girl friend today, and then committed suicide.

Milford police said attractive, red-haired, blue-eyed Arlene Harris, a high school student, was shot by Raymond Cretton because she dined with other men at a party last night.

The girl was said by Milford hospital doctors to be in a "very serious" condition.

College Student Injured In Crash

Miss Barbara Crawford, Of Emlenton, In Hospital With Head Injuries

Miss Barbara Crawford, aged 19 years, of Emlenton, Pa., a sophomore at Westminster college, was critically injured at 11 o'clock Friday night, when an auto driven by Jack Winter of 318 Englewood avenue, a junior at Westminster college, clipped a stalled auto and then a culvert and overturned, just beyond Oakhurst, seven miles north of the city.

Winter escaped with minor bruises.

Miss Crawford sustained a severe laceration of the back of the head with a possible fracture of the skull, and her condition today was said to be only fair at the James Memorial hospital, where she was removed in an ambulance after the crash. She was thrown out of the car onto the highway.

Returning To College
The two students were returning to the college from New Castle and had reached Oakhurst, when an automobile driven by Richard W. Crispin of 214 E. Lincoln avenue, which the driver was turning around at the Oakhurst entrance, stalled as Crispin was backing out onto the highway. Winter's car just clipped the back end of the stalled car, and then went off onto the berm on the right side of the road, the two wheels on that side getting down over the embankment. Mr. Winter tried to pull the car back onto the highway to avoid hitting a concrete culvert, but the (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Bing Crosby In Pittsburgh To Watch Pirates

PITTSBURGH, May 14.—(INS)—Bing Crosby arrived in Pittsburgh today worried about two things—the weather and his golf clubs.

After being assured by General Manager Roy Hamey that today's Pittsburgh-St. Louis game was not threatened by rain, the Pirate part owner supervised the stacking of an expensive set of golf clubs in a luggage cart.

Then he seemed surprised because his was the only straw hat in the group.

"Why, I've been wearing mine since the fifth," Crosby explained. The groaner will spend the week in Pittsburgh, watching the Bucs play at Forbes Field and golfing at local country clubs.

Tax Agreement Will Eliminate Local Sales Tax

City Council And School Board Reach Agreement On Wage Tax Division

MEETING UNDER G.N.C.A. AUSPICES

City council and the school board reached an agreement Friday night over the division of the wage tax levy in New Castle.

The agreement arrived at is this. The school board will levy a four mill wage tax effective January 1, 1950 and the city will drop its present ten mill levy to six mills.

The agreement to divide the wage tax eliminates the possibility of a one per cent sales tax which had been projected by the school board.

Tentative Agreement Further
In addition, the school board agreed tentatively that its wage levy would drop to three mills effective July 1, 1950 and the city's would go to seven.

The division agreed upon does not add to the present ten mill levy, takes care of a pressing financial need of the New Castle school board and demonstrated tangibly what can be done in a city where two taxing bodies sit down and discuss their common problem.

The meeting was in the Castleton hotel, called by the Greater New Castle Association. President Richard E. Bentz presided. Opening the meeting he said it had been called pursuant to the sentiment of the meeting held several days ago between council, the board and citizens.

In a little more than two hours the two taxing bodies had tentatively ironed out what few difficulties seemed apparent, and adjourned with no increase to any taxpayer.

Fiscal Year Difficulties
One of the first hurdles to be taken was the difference between the fiscal years of the city and the school board. The city's fiscal year runs from January to January. The school board's fiscal year runs from July to July.

Mayor John F. Haven pointed out that the city had already built its budget for the current year (Continued on Page Two)

Labor Party In Great Britain Surveys Defeat

LONDON, May 14.—(INS)—Britain's ruling Labor party took stock of its policies and electoral machinery today in analyzing the party's sweeping defeat in week-long municipal elections in England and Wales.

Final returns gave the Conservatives 1,856 seats, the Laborites 1,778, Independents 941, Liberals 107 and communists 11.

Thus, the Conservatives scored a net gain of 805 seats and the Laborites a net loss of 715.

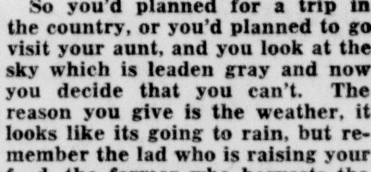

Political analysts pointed to the recently-introduced "austerity budget" of Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps as an important factor in the switch in sentiment.

The Conservative, however, said the results signify a deeper change of heart and a trend against socialism.

So you'd planned for a trip in the country, or you'd planned to go visit your aunt, and you look at the sky which is leaden gray and now you decide that you can't. The reason you give is the weather. It looks like it's going to rain, but remember the lad who is raising your f. d. the farmer who harvests the grain. The fields are dry for this early, there's rain that is needed and say, that trip you planned isn't important, it's seventy-five today.

FRATZ GUMINEY CHURCH WEDDING

St. Vitus church was the scene of a lovely church wedding when Miss Catherine Fratz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Fratz of 1116 Williams street, became the bride of Bernard Guminey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Guminey of 139 Madison avenue. Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar embanked with palms and spring flowers at 8 o'clock a. m., May 7.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white satin gown, fashioned with a white marquisette yoke trimmed in lace, long sleeves and a full skirt made en traine. Her fingertip veil fell from a head-band of braided satin caught at each side with a cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a colorful bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid and long streamers of baby white mums.

Miss Frances Lesniak, as maid of honor, was attired in a pink marquisette gown and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Bridesmaids, the Misses Theres Guminey, sister of the groom, and Delores Kopp of Niles, O., wore gowns of orchid and green marquisette, respectively. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses.

Henry Guminey served his brother as best man and the ushers were Anthony Pertile and Pete Neghue.

Following the ceremony there was a breakfast served at the Sons of Italy hall followed by a dinner served to 60 guests. A reception was held at the hall in the evening for approximately 200 guests.

The newlyweds then departed on a wedding trip to Canada and upon their return will reside at 1116 Williams street.

Mrs. Guminey is a graduate of the New Castle High school and is employed as a supervisor at the Bell Telephone company.

Mr. Guminey, after serving three years in service, is now employed at the Little Steel company, New Brighton.

Union High Has Gala Senior Dance

Circus Side Show And Award Presentations Occupy Time Of Intermission

Seniors at the Union High school held their final gala event of the year before graduation—the senior dance, Friday evening, in the school gym.

Gay pastel decorations were used to add color to the surroundings. Mike Miller and his musicians presented the pleasing dance melodies, with dancing starting at 8:15 o'clock, and continuing until 11:30 o'clock.

During the intermission, a rip-roaring circus side show was presented and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Dancers in old-fashioned costumes entertained, and they were: Wilma Heckart, Nadine Bartlett, Mary Bussey and Leila Skaggs. The Barker was Dan Leasure. Keeping the crowd amused were the clowns: Bill Salzman and Jack Primavera.

A special event was also the presentation of awards to the graduating seniors. The most beautiful girl was voted to be, Nadine Bartlett; most popular girl, Betty Vigne; girl with best disposition, Frances Daugherty; handsome boy, John Pilshaw; most popular boy, Bob Repasky; and boy with best disposition, Ralph Brown.

The senior advisors, Miss Elma Robinson, and Mrs. John King were presented with lovely corsages. Anthony Condl, president of the class, making the presentations.

be called before a Senate judiciary subcommittee which is studying legislation to tighten alien deportation laws to tell details of Eisler's escape.

Clark has recommended that the government be given authority to detain subversive aliens without bond while they await deportation.

Nixon lauded Clark for proposing the legislation and advocated enactment of such proposals this session.

Un-American Activities committee members in the past have been critical of the fact that Eisler was permitted to engage in a cross-country lecture tour and to travel at will since his conviction.

He was convicted on charges of illegal entry into the United States and for contempt of Congress following his appearance before the House group.

TAX AGREEMENT WILL ELIMINATE LOCAL SALES TAX

and expected to collect the ten mill levy for the year.

For the school board, President Howard L. Reynolds pointed out that the school would need much additional money for the 1949-50 school year and suggested that the city might be willing to appropriate some of its wage tax money collected this year.

City Solicitor Robert M. White said that the city could not give any money to the board because it had levied the taxes for a specific purpose, that of operating the city.

School Director Daniel B. Woolcock said the board would probably face a deficit of about $170,000 unless it could find some fresh money for the year 1949-50.

Each taxing body viewed the other's problem sympathetically and suggestions instead of criticisms marked the discussion. Finally each of the bodies retired for a conference and upon their return came up with the solution stated in the second paragraph of this article.

Ten Mill Ceiling
Under an act of 1949 a ten mill ceiling has been placed upon wage taxes. Where the city and school board levy a ten mill tax, it must be divided equally or upon such basis as the bodies elect to divide it.

The four mill tax of the school board will not be effective until January 1, 1950. On July 1, 1950 the board agreed it would endeavor to cut this to three mills, permitting the city to get seven instead of six. This action could not be taken definitely by the board inasmuch as it would mean committing the next board to such action. However the members did say they would endeavor to take such action.

The co-operative action came quicker than had been anticipated. When the problem of getting the two bodies together with citizens was handed the Greater New Castle Association several days ago it was thought it would take a number of conferences.

The fact that the matter was cleaned up in such quick time evidences the earnestness of the GNCA to dispose of a civic problem, and also its ability to serve quickly and efficiently.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Suspension of the Berlin blockade enabled international attention to focus today upon another forthcoming event of major importance—the first Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers meeting since January, 1947.

The advance guard of the United States delegation already has left for Paris.

And in the French capital, workmen are polishing up the famous "pink palace" of American-born Anna Gould, the Duchess de Talleyrand, on the fashionable avenue Foch where the ministers will meet in an attempt to thresh out once and for all the whole problem of Germany.

Enormous Difficulties
There is no one in a responsible position who questions the enormous difficulties involved.

Winston Churchill has sought to dampen undue optimism and enthusiasm over lifting of the blockade by warning again that Soviet Russia is a mighty oligarchy with almost a religion in the Communist doctrine which makes millions throughout the world "enemies of the lands of their birth."

The Big Four meeting cannot have on its agenda any discussion of world Communism as such. But its role in the Germany of the past and of the future is certain to pervade the atmosphere of the conference from start to finish.

Churchill pointed this up in his House of Commons speech by calling upon Russia to produce "deeds—not words."

He also emphasized that Communism has lost none of its strength and vigor and inferentially underlined the Soviet knock for tricky "maneuvers" which can distort the true situation and mislead the world's public.

No Agenda Framed
No agenda has yet been framed for the conference.

This probably will be the task of secondary delegates arriving in Paris before the Big Four actually make their appearance.

Ostensibly, the top item on the program will be the question of a uniform currency of Berlin. This tangled issue was held in abeyance during the American-Soviet negotiations which led to the dramatic blockade-lifting.

But actually, Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the leading delegates of Great Britain and France will attempt with their great political insight and background to determine from the attitude of Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky just how sincere the Russians have been with regard to the Berlin situation.

Briefly, their problem is to find out whether this presumed act of Soviet cooperation was actually that, or instead a political move in a new attempt to consolidate Germany under the Hammer and Sickle banner.

Studied Politeness
The present attitude of Russian soldiers in Berlin appears to be one of studied politeness, while Communist political puppets in the eastern zone have reopened with zest their campaign for unification.

This would invalidate the western German government created under the newly-written Bonn constitution. The Western Allies are willing to include the eastern zone in this presently Tri-Partite set-up.

But they are opposed without qualification to establishment of a German state that would stem from the present "rump" government established in Berlin during a reign of terror and violence some months ago.

If there is any psychological value in names and atmosphere, the home of the Duchesse de Talleyrand should be an encouraging site for east-west understanding.

The name she holds dear is that of one of France's greatest statesmen, a leading proponent of peace and cooperation among France, Germany and Russia who was dispatched to temporary obscurity by Napoleon in 1808 because he was too bitterly opposed to war.

Talleyrand came into his own at the Congress of Vienna and restored the Bourbon dynasty. Some ghosts of his peaceful nature may still roam the tapestried halls of the "Pink Palace" just a short distance away from the Arch of Triumph.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Some Senator, I don't remember who, and it doesn't matter, proposed that all members of the Senate be limited in the number of words they may use.

A certain number of words may be inserted free in the Congressional Record, he suggested. But so much per word is to be paid out of the Senator's own pocket if he exceeds his verbiage allowance.

Nothing will come of the idea, of course. Attempting to take the oratorical privilege away from a politician would be as successful as trying to dam a Mississippi River flood with your thumb.

It can't be done. However I wish there could be a self-imposed penalty on the excess use of words.

Words can be very dangerous. Children like to play with matches.

Grownups like to play with words. Every war is equally inflammable.

Every war is equally inflammable. Domestic fight is preceded by a barrage of inflammatory words.

A bullet hits the mark and is spent. Words travel on. They spread as they travel. They arouse, incite, inflame.

One of the greatest troubles with words is that often the vilest words can do the greatest damage with them.

Words are cheap. Perhaps that is why successful men use them sparingly.

People rich in thoughts and ideas don't have to use cheap words.

We are living in an age of unrest and social changes. Uncertainty and discontent are rampant. Instead of allaying our fears and doubts, rabble rousers and irresponsible would-be reformers are substituting inflammatory orations for sound reasoning and reassuring logic.

Men and women who themselves have achieved nothing promise to lead us into Utopia.

People try to convince us that the old principles of ability, industry and honesty are out of date. They try to persuade us that laziness, shiftlessness, stupidity and rebellion are the new coins of the realm.

Don't believe them. Don't let the spellbinders tell you that milk and honey are to be had for the sitting-down and the day-dreaming.

Cows still have to be milked. Bees still have to hustle for the sweet.

Justice has been pictured as blind. Justice is not blind. Justice has her eyes wide open and "does to you as you do to them."

There is only one Utopia to which you can be admitted without work, without saving, without ability, without brains.

That Utopia is the poorhouse. (Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

After listening to weather forecasts for weeks, we have one conclusion. There are three types of weather conditions—the kind we want, the kind the forecasters say we will have and the kind we get.

—H. G. Hutchins in the August, Kan., Gazette.

The World and the Mud Puddles

CONCERNING LOUIS JOHNSON

If Louis Johnson lives up to his initial outgivings to the press he is on the way to being able secretary of defense. Mr. Johnson says that there will be no more "headline competition" among the three branches of the armed services.

There has been plenty in the past, with army, navy and air spokesmen trying to outdo each other.

Mr. Johnson is also making a move toward efficiency by quartering all defense branches under one roof—in the famous Pentagon building. Best of all, he promises to abolish a large number of the eight hundred boards and agencies which trample all over each other and represent duplication and triplication of effort.

One of the big jobs confronting the new secretary of defense is the actual unification of the armed forces in conformity with the intent of the consolidation act. That such unification has not yet been achieved is evident from the rifts in defense agencies, first becoming apparent in the battle over the seventy-unit air plan and not manifesting itself in the navy-air force conflict over bombing missions.

Is Demoralizing
Certainly nothing could be more demoralizing from the standpoint of national security than a continuance of discord due to the differences and jealousies among the three branches of the service. Unfortunately, there has been continuing conflict, based largely on the matter of determining which arm can get the biggest appropriations from Congress and which shall have popular precedence.

Secretary Johnson in the War department during the World War demonstrated no small measure of capacity. We hope he has the vision and the strong hand required to make unification a reality instead of a mere figure of speech.

We have been reading with much interest the deeds of this man and are wondering how long it will be before the big brass succeeds in crucifying him. God send a far day. The complacent and well upholstered boys of staff and flag do not relish having limousines shot from under them, but it is high time for a man with a heavy hand to be taking over. Royall is out and so is Sullivan, which is all for the good.

Poor feeble-minded Forrestal made an address on St. Patrick's Day, in which he said: "In place of desire in Western Europe, there is hope; in place of hunger, food; in place of fear, courage." A writer in reporting this speech added: "The most optimistic note of all—in place of Forrestal, Johnson."

Vermont's Senate Ralph E. Flanders, who takes pride in his Yankee directness, thinks the State department's striped-pants boys are being too round-about in trying to offset Russian trouble-making.

Flanders wants to take a direct route: straight over the Iron Curtain with leaflet-packed guided missiles and free balloons carrying broadcast devices on Soviet wave lengths to tell the Russian people about the outside world.

It is high time, says Flanders, that the United States meets trouble-making in kind. Maybe, he says, the Politburo "gangsters" can be given "enough domestic trouble to divert their attention from world conquest."

Flanders says that, unlike Hitler's "gangsters," whose ideology had no appeal outside Germany, the Russian export is captivating "self-minded intellectuals" and providing false hope to hte unfortunate world over.

So Flanders proposes the use of ideological weapons, as long as it is an ideological war.

Cooperation . . . you hear that word . . . many people believe faithfully in its meaning . . . We have used it time and time again when we talked about this community. Cooperation between all people to accomplish a job that would make this community grow into a strong and prosperous city. There have been indications during the past years when this word cooperation has been dropped . . . But such is not the case at the present time.

Last evening . . . the word cooperation took on new and great meaning . . . The New Castle City Council and the New Castle School Board met in a joint meeting . . . sat down side by side and talked over the taxing problems that confront each body. Looking the situation over in a calm and collected manner the entire taxing set-up was discussed. Legislative acts were studied and then applied to the local taxing sub-divisions . . . a possible solution was discussed. BUT always the main theme was the burden that would be placed on John Q. Public.

John Q. Public realizes that more monies are needed to operate both the City and the Schools than was needed last year or the year before. The big question was . . . how can the City and Schools be operated properly at present costs without putting more burden on John Q.

Cooperation gave the answer last evening . . . City Council and the School Board will share the now effective pay-roll tax . . . called the wage tax. This sharing to become effective January 1st, 1950. The School Board will drop their thoughts on levying a City Sales Tax.

Yes friend citizens . . . we are proud to be a citizen in a community that expressed such cooperation as was practiced last evening by the above mentioned boards . . . Mayor John F. Haven and colleagues and President Howard L. Reynolds and colleagues . . . please accept our thanks and know that we mean it when we say . . . A job well done.

GNCA . . . the citizens organization called the meeting.

Competition Area Being Cut Down

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Webster's new collegiate dictionary defines the word competition in the commercial and economic sense, as: "The effort of two or more parties, acting independently, to secure the custom of a third party by offering most favorable terms."

That is the driving force of what we like to think of as the free American market—the steam behind the initiative. But the fact is that the area of competition is constantly being cut down as monopoly in one disguise or another takes over.

The Civil Aeronautics Board is starting hearings into the application of Pan American Airways to buy American overseas airlines. If the deal is approved by CAB, one of Pan-Am's chief U. S. competitors in the foreign field will have been eliminated.

Another Step Taken
Objective observers with expert knowledge believe that this is one more step in the direction of the "chosen instrument", or single government-subsidized airline. For many years that has been the goal of Juan Trippe, the enormously resourceful and hard-driving president of Pan American.

It is Pan-Am's argument that in competing with foreign lines subsidized or owned outright by foreign governments the U. S. cannot afford competition between U. S. operators. This argument has considerable force.

The route was first awarded, on July 29, to Northwest Airlines, Inc. Then at the end of August Pan American asked for reconsideration and a rehearing. On Sept. 16 President Truman ordered the CAB to grant Pan-Am what was, in effect, a duplicate route.

Both Pan American and Northwest deny emphatically that they made any contribution. Corporations are forbidden by law to make political contributions. But, when they talk confidentially, spokesmen for each line, while protesting their own innocence, accuse the other of having handed over a generous sum in the expectation of favorable action.

May Be Innocent
They both may be as innocent as lambs or each may be correct in accusing the other. One newspaper printed the report that Pan American had paid over a large sum to Louis Johnson, then finance chairman of the Democratic party and now secretary of national defense.

Northwest Airlines recently applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan of $21,000,000, twelve million of which would go for new equipment. The balance would underwrite $9,000,000 in loans from private banks. Pan-Am's air-mail pay went up from $16,813,000 in 1947 to $23,849,000 in 1948 and Northwest's went from $3,884,000 to $8,056,000, the latter including a retroactive payment of $2,010,000.

Competition between airlines, both domestic and foreign, seems to me important. A "chosen instrument" is very likely to be taken over by government and no one, or almost no one, wants government operation. When you put this up to Pan American officials, they say, "not necessarily. Look at the telephone company."

Private and regulated monopoly may be essential in some fields. But it is certainly not desirable in the kind of industry that depends on public good will and support. Congress is at last looking into this whole question of competition in the air industry and whether it needs to be so costly to the taxpayer. I want to discuss that in a subsequent column.

No "Popular Mandate"

WASHINGTON, May 14. IF it is true President Truman fooled the politicians, pollsters, newspaper editors, columnists and bettors about the result of the last election, it is also true he fooled himself quite as badly concerning the meaning of the result. If the experts missed the signs that pointed to his victory, Mr. Truman and his advisers certainly misread the significance of the returns.

PROOF of this is the exceedingly sick state in which his so-called "Fair Deal" program now finds itself after four months of Congress. Chief reason for this is Administration acceptance not only of the labor bosses' interpretation of the Truman success as a "mandate" to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act but the unwarranted Administration expansion of the mandate idea to include numerous campaign promises more or less desperately made when there seemed almost no chance of his election. That was a mistake. On this assumption a gigantic program was developed which would have been fantastic even if the Truman victory had been overwhelming and the country ripe for socialist experimentation.

THAT program bears no relation to realities and it is not surprising it has bogged down. The flattest failure is the effort to wipe off the books the Taft-Hartley law. It is perfectly clear now that this is not going to be done. Though, in addition to the full weight of the labor bosses and the full weight of the White House, Mr. Truman has used the full weight of Federal patronage, the repeal proposals are stuck. On this issue Mr. Truman and the labor lobbies, despite their belligerent proclamation and claims, are in retreat. On this issue the "mandate" has been exposed as particularly silly. Although left-wing columnists who speak for the CIO insist that a Truman victory is still possible and are trying to cajole the easily cajolable "liberal" Republican senators, such as Ives, Morse and Aiken, this is recognized as propaganda, and everybody knows the repeal fight has been lost.

FINAL result at this session will be passage of a bill modifying the existing law as proposed or agreed to by Senator Taft but retaining the chief features of the Taft-Hartley Act. Whether the name is changed or not is immaterial. The main point is that the attempt to kill the only piece of labor legislation in 16 years affording the public any protection at all and go back to the original Wagner Act under which the labor bosses wielded—and abused—unrestricted power, has failed. For that, the average American can be grateful. Any other result would have been degrading and devastating.

BUT other parts of the "Fair Deal" program seem just as thoroughly mired now as the labor part. For example, the new farm bill, evolved by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, design to increase the subsidies to the farmers and decrease the price of food to the consumers by direct payments out of the Treasury. This would be pretty tough on the taxpayer and further unbalance our unstable Federal finances. Even Mr. Brannan can only guess what the cost would be. In any event the best guess is that the bill will not pass. Nor will the Truman campaign pulchery health insurance bill; nor the extraordinary "Economic Stabilization Act of 1949". Nor the Truman tax proposals; nor the Truman proposals to expand the Social Security Act so as to take in 20,000,000 more individuals at an almost incredible cost; nor his civil-rights proposals.

ALTOGETHER, only a negligible part of the President's domestic program seems scheduled to go through this session. The situation, of course, may change but experienced observers do not now think so. As they see it, there was never a more underbaked and untimely program presented nor one more completely stalled. And this is especially remarkable when it is considered that Mr. Truman, a newly elected President with four years of his term stretching ahead, has a Democratic majority in both branches of Congress and a great many offices at his disposal.

THE effort to ascribe this failure to a sinister "coalition" of Republicans and Southern Democrats is strained. The word "coalition" is regularly used to explain the fact that a majority in Congress—and in the country—favors neither the subversive to the labor bullies exhibited by the Administration nor the huge cost and drastic character of the welfare legislation proposed. Above all, what the state of the President's program shows is that there is behind it nothing resembling a popular "mandate". Talk from the Administration politicians and the labor publicists about taking "our case" to the people in 1950 is bunk. There isn't any way to arouse the people in favor of this program. They were not for it last year and they are very unlikely to be next.

JOBS UPON A TIME

Titian, or Tiziano Vecellio, Italian nobleman, lived to be about 99 years of age. He was one of the greatest painters of all time. The house at Pieve di Cadore, Italy, where he was born is now a small museum. The date of his birth is generally given as 1477. While he was still a child he was sent to Venice to study. Among his more important works are "Sacred and Profane Love," about 1500; "Christ and the Tribute Money," now at Dresden; "Diana and Actaeon," in the British National Gallery, London; "A Summer Storm," at Buckingham Palace, London; "Jupiter and Antiope," in the Louvre, etc., and many self portraits. A certain shade of red is named after him.

Lord Kitchener, British field marshal and statesman, was born on June 24, 1850, at Bally Longford, County Kerry, Ireland. He entered the Royal Military academy at Woolwich, in 1868, and was commissioned second lieutenant, Royal Engineers, in 1871. He was raised to the British peerage for his military and statesmanlike work in Egypt and the Sudan. In the South African war he was appointed chief of staff to Gen. Frederick Roberts. After the latter's return to England he succeeded him as commander-in-chief. He was severely criticized for his tactics toward the Boers in the war, but after the British victory his enemies felt his influence in the moderation of the peace terms.

Everyday Duties
Our trouble at home is her lack of doing her everyday duties without being told. She is in choir at school, belongs to Girl Scouts and goes to craft school once a week. At these things she is happy.

This mother divorced her husband when the girl was four years old, remarried and has two girls by this second marriage, 2½ years old and 5 months, respectively. This older girl has been seeing her real father once a month since the divorce.

My reply was about like this: I hope you won't be too hard on yourself. Any other woman in your place might have done no better. It's wonderful you can report your central problems as on-paper.

Rev. O. J. Warnath To Mark Anniversary

St. Paul's Lutheran Pastor To Observe Fourth Anniversary

Sunday morning Rev. O. J. Warnath will observe his fourth anniversary as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Jefferson and Grant streets.

During Rev. Warnath's pastorate a burdensome church mortgage was liquidated. Extensive interior and exterior repairs to church building were made. A new carpet was laid in the main auditorium. The membership of the congregation has increased three times its former size. All organizations are most active in service.

The Sunday school rooms are now inadequate to accommodate the increased enrollment, so that church council has decided to enlarge the kitchen and beginner's department to obtain additional space for the rapidly growing Sunday school. Plans are also being considered by the church to convert the heating of the building from coal to gas heat.

The congregation is not only interested in its own local affairs, but is most interested in the general work of the church at large. At the close of the year 1948 St. Paul's overpaid their apportionment in full to Synod. They also met in full their Lutheran World Action quota.

Rev. Warnath's sermon topic on Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock is entitled: "Four Milestones."

FORD COMPANY REPLY AWAITED

Proposed C.I.O.-U.A.W. Formula For Ending Strike Is Being Considered

DETROIT, May 14.—(INS)—The Ford Motor company is expected to reply today to a proposed CIO-UAW formula for ending the ten-day-old Rouge strike and paving the way for negotiations on union contract demands in two days.

Ford Labor Relations Director John S. Bugas described the proposal as the first "crystallized" offer UAW President Walter P. Reuther and his delegation have submitted in four days of post-strike bargaining.

Reuther said the union's stand, presented to management in writing, is "specific and detailed," and added, perhaps significantly, "Upon receipt of this proposal the company raised certain questions which we answered."

This first break in negotiations since 62,000 Ford Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury employees walked out in protest against alleged assembly line speedups coincided with a warning to both parties from Washington.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

jectively as you do. Now I would like to help you spread this objective view and analysis more widely.

First, try to put yourself in the place of this daughter. Imagine how her heartstrings must have been tugged at by your "side" and your first husband's "side."

Consider the poisonous suggestions toward him from your side and toward you from his side, that must have been poured into this child's mind; and the emotional conflicts and anxieties about who loves her and how much, which must have burdened her. And you yourself have had many hampering emotions widely spread throughout all your family relationships, sticking to you like a leech.

Strong Competition
Then your present husband trying to win this daughter and seeing his strong competition by her father, and at the same time strongly attached to these younger children who are yours and his together, has his conflicts. How hard too, it must be for this daughter to feel sure she is loved as much by you as these step-sisters are. How very hard it must be for this child to cooperate with you heartily, and for you not to be vexed at her when she doesn't.

So considering all these matters you might have more power to check your voice and words. Naturally, you will slip sometimes. Wonderful then if, after you have become, to apologize to this child. This would give you emotional satisfaction and the effect on the child would be good.

Then at another quiet and companionable time you might be able to talk over with this daughter a few of the matters, which have vexed both of you, helping her to see why she must do certain things. Then you might well define a few of these specific duties she must do regularly without being told. If she doesn't improve, assign a penalty, such as sitting without amusement for one hour. This is much more humane than arguing.

Whatever your plan, rule out all jawing. You might get some help from my enclosed bulletin, "How Teach Child To Help At Home" (which anybody else may have in a stamped envelope addressed to me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

Bill Is Vetoed By Governor Duff

HARRISBURG, May 14.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today announced a veto of legislation to boost the health license fees of restaurants.

Duff said he objected to the measure because of a provision which required the health department to police eating places in second class townships but provided for license fees paid to townships.

"On the one hand, there would be imposed upon the commonwealth both the expense and the responsibility of making sanitation inspections prior to the issuance of the licenses while on the other hand, the commonwealth would be deprived of the income necessary to defray the administrative costs in such cases," Duff explained.

He said the proposed set up would cost the state $20,000 a year.

Result: He is now the enterprising owner of a rare and profitable mobile photography shop.

Mt. Jackson School Operetta Presented

Capacity Audience On Hand At School To Witness Adaptation Of Opera 'Faust'

Weeks of preparation and hard work were climaxed Friday evening in the Mt. Jackson high school auditorium when the high school students gave their public presentation of Harvey Loomis' adaptation of Gounod's opera "Faust" before a capacity audience which thrilled at the student production which went on as well as though presented by seasoned actors and actresses.

Lloyd Rainey, who was understudy for Wayne Emery, carried out his role to perfection in the absence of Mr. Emery. Other characters in the operetta received an equal amount of praise and acclaim as they portrayed their various roles. The costuming, done by Mrs. Ruth S. Stunkard was an outstanding piece of work.

Solo work in the performance was an outstanding feature of the presentation and received very favorable comment from the audience. Bob Brobeck was responsible for the stage scenery without which the operetta would have been lacking.

Credit for the fine work in directing the event goes to Miss A. Martha Matthews, speech coach and Mrs. Anita Scott, music director.

High income tax, plus low interest rates and increased cost of living, make it next to impossible for the young executive to salvage much surplus income in any one year. How then will he accumulate that estate which would be so badly needed by his family should death cut short his progress?

Detroit Tigers Have Become Serious Threat With Kolloway In Lineup

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 14.—(INS)—Second baseman Don Kolloway appears today to have made a real pennant contender out of the Detroit Tigers, who now are in second place in the American league, three games behind the New York Yankees.

The Keystone sack has been a sore spot on the Detroit team for years. This weakness was one of the main reasons why the Tigers were not given much of a chance against teams like Cleveland, the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees in this year's American league flag race.

Tigers Spark Browns

Last night Donald sparked the Bengals to a 7 to 2 win over the St. Louis Browns with four hits, including three doubles. Ted Gray, Detroit southpaw, registered his third straight win.

Cleveland and the Chicago White Sox got down to the bottom of their respective pitching barrels and the result was an 11 to 10 carnage with the Sox on top when the last towel was lifted. The Indians dropped to third place.

Other American league clubs were not scheduled.

Giants-Braves Win

In the National league, Larry Jansen of the New York Giants held the Phillies to five hits and beat them 9 to 1 for his third straight win. Bobby Thompson led New York's 14-hit attack with a three-run homer and two triples.

The first-place tie between the Giants and Boston remained unbroken when the Braves nosed out Brooklyn, 6 to 5, in the tenth on a single by Bob Elliott with the bases full. It was Bob's fourth hit of the game.

Cincinnati advanced to third place, passing the Dodgers, by walloping the Chicago Cubs 7 to 0. Bud Lively went the route for the Reds.

Homers Win For Bucs

George Munger of St. Louis was the losing pitcher in the Cardinals' 3 to 2 defeat by Pittsburgh although he threw only one pitch—a home run ball to Eddie Bockman. Pittsburgh's other two tallies also were made on homers, by Ralph Kiner and Wally Westlake.

Kiner's homer, his sixth of the season, was hit off Harry Brecheen in the eighth inning and enabled the Pirates to tie the score.

New Castle Rifle

Team Wins Shoot

The New Castle rifle team defeated two other teams in a shoot at Pittsburgh last night. The results—New Castle 1527, Oakmont 1527, and Frazier 1524.

New Castle won the meet by shooting a 730 standing score to 728 for Oakmont. The New Castle scores—Wilbur Thomas, 390 out of a possible 400; Jesse Moore, 382; Paul Carrigan, 380; and John Williams, 375.

The scores apply on the state and national championship.

Stomach Blows Hurt Marshall

Pozza Took Fifth And Sixth Round Of First Fight With Midriff Punches

Detroit's meerschaum-colored Len Marshall and Billy Pozza, Ellwood's slug artist, have Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, to fit themselves for a gruelling eight round, return fight Wednesday night in The Arena, which is apt to be determined, either way, by a knock-out.

Keenly chagrined over the loss of decisions to Jackie Lyons and Marshall, the slugger intends to crowd Marshall, and will probably do a lot of close-quarter punching.

Marshall is taller and has a longer reach than Pozza, and in such cases, the rule of the ring is "crowd your opponent, while the midriff, and when occasion presents, if possible, hang an over-hand right or left upon the jaw."

It was noticeable to Here & There that in the fifth round of their first battle, which was at Ellwood, Pozza sent a hard left to the stomach that forced Marshall to stop his head guard and protect his stomach.

In the next round Pozza came out best in a slugfest, landed to the stomach several times and Marshall's knees buckled, momentarily. Toward the latter portion of the round Marshall staved off the rushin' Billy, by using his long left to the face.

It may be that the two defeats taught Pozza something. It is also plausible to believe that by sparing with Tommy Yarosz, "Fighter of April," he has gained ring acumen he would not have garnered otherwise.

At any rate, indications point to a stiff argument. There is one thing which is certain about Pozza. He will fight. Pozza is aggressive, and he stands up under punishment, and is able to come back. Marshall is cagey which is his main asset.

The Jefferson Athletic club reports a brisk demand for pastebards for the second fight, apparently fans believing that knowing a third defeat will affect his drawing power and his ability to get matches to win by a "kayo."

Sid Peaks battles Sonny Marsh. At 160, Jimmy Gascon takes on Bobby Mason, and Tony Arkett boxes Frankie Romeo. One other battle remains unarranged. It will be announced Monday.

Cleveland actually looks like the real stickout in both leagues in spite of all you hear about Boston and New York as American league contenders.

Three New Castle men are members of the Westminister College Golf team which has won eight, lost one and tied one match to date. They are: Fred Broad, Jack Winter and Sidney Lucas. The team defeated Grove City Friday, at Grove City, 11 to 7.

New York 9, Philadelphia 1 (night). New Castle, Bill Paul, New Kensington; Fred Broad, New Castle; Jack Whitmer, Kams City; Sidney Lucas, New Castle, and Tom Repologie, Pittsburgh. Kneeling is Dr. William J. Thomas, faculty coach.

Martin Hurls One-Hit Game

Bessemer Ties Defeated Lowellville For First Place In County League

Young Jim Martin came within a lone single of pitching a no-hitter in the Lawrence County league last night, as the Bessemer team defeated the Wampum Victory Club 3 to 2 at Bessemer.

The Lowellville defeat by Koppel 7 to 1 gives Bessemer a tie for first place in the loop. A single by Ippolito was the only hit that Martin allowed, but he walked six men. He also fanned four.

Bessemer clubbed Beatrice for six hits and three runs all in one inning, the sixth. Wampum tallied both runs in the fourth on walks and the hit by Ippolito.

Bessemer now has won five and lost one. Wampum is four and two.

LOWELLVILLE STREAK ENDS

The five-game winning streak of the Lowellville team came to a sudden end last night when Koppel, as the later team won 7 to 1, with Ferrante having the best of Susany in a pitching duel.

Both hurlers gave up eight hits, but Lowellville couldn't take advantage of their hits. Powell of Koppel had a homer and M. Marshall had a triple.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

PATSY BRANNIGAN, ex-baniam, and also a former featherweight, stands ace high "in the book" of Mickie Solomon, former welterweight and 160-pounder, who recently became a Pennsylvania Athletic commission referee, and who has arbitrated several fights here, lately. And as Old Man Postum says: "There's a reason." But let Mickie tell it, which is as follows:

"One night, in McKeesport, I was fighting a colored welterweight, named Jackie Murray. He floored me in the first and duplicated the feat in the second, and when I went to my corner, I was groggy, and leg-weary."

"Suddenly, I felt the cramps being rubbed from my legs, and I saw, in front of my upraised knees, a red-haired fellow, attired immaculately. He paid no heed to the resin on the canvas, or the water on the floor in the corner."

"When I went out for the third round, my head had cleared, and my legs were in supple condition, and at the end of what was a good fight, I was given the decision, which the crowd approved."

"While on a rubbing table in the dressing-room, where a crowd had gathered, I asked Eddie Weygant, who handled me then: 'Who was the fellow who rubbed my legs?' He did me a good turn."

"Oh, that is Patsy Brannigan. I want you to meet him" whereupon out of the crowd came Brannigan. The knees of his light plaid suit were soiled and wet from resting upon them while rubbing my legs."

Patsy gave me some 'pointers', which I appreciated, and I'll never forget him. Of course, I was conversant with his record, but until that night, had never met him.

Speaking of Brannigan, Here & There once quoted Brannigan as saying: "A preliminary boxer should receive the same attention as a champion," which is true.

There have been few Brannigans. He began fighting when 13 and boxed them all, good and mediocre, and surely would have become bantamweight king had Jimmie Dime accepted a bout for him with Johnny Coulton, which was offered by a Wisconsin promoter.

The promoter offered Dime 20 percent for Brannigan's wares, but Dime held out for an extra five percent. Brannigan was advised to go over Dime's head and take the fight but refused to do so.

The grapevine carried a report that Coulton, realizing he was at the end of his string, and having a strong liking for Brannigan, would have preferred to have lost his title to him, instead of Kid Williams.

Elkins Brothers and Pat Comiskey fight Monday night in Washington, D. C. Their bout, which was scheduled for Tuesday, past, was postponed due to inclement weather conditions. . . . Johnny Haydon, born and reared in New Castle, now a resident of California, has advised Jimmie Dunn, at Las Vegas, he is returning to New Castle for a visit late this month. Dunn and Haydon boxed for four rounds in an old Mill Street theater decades ago. Haydon has been in California since 1910. . . . Fifteen members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association Conservation club were taken on a trout fishing expedition today by instructors of the LCSA as a reward for their attendance at the Monday night classes, which now have been postponed until fall. . . . Russell Baxter, former middleweight fighter, is in Detroit. . . . Ellwood City Rod & Gun club traps today and tomorrow, the LCSA will skeet and trapshoot at the Harbor. . . . Jack Middle writes Here & There, Nap Howard and he didn't fight at Phoenix due to Howard getting an eye cut in a bout. He hopes that by rushing Elkins Brothers in against Pat Comiskey his handlers are pushing him too fast. Jack witnessed the destruction by fire of the Hollywood race track, in which no horses were lost but terrific property damage resulted. He was supposed to have boxed Ray Diotis in San Diego, Thursday night, the outcome of which isn't known here. . . . Publication of a letter to the Sports department, concerning a Shamrocks-DeCarbo game is withheld because the letter was not signed. Anonymous communications will not be published.

HIGHLIGHTS on SPORTS by "WINTER'S"

Joe Louis Settles a Score
Joe Louis, who had taken a terrific beating from Max Schmeling in June 1936, finally got his revenge two years later when he was Heavyweight Champion, in a return bout in N. Y., June 1938.

Louis had been a 10-1 favorite over Schmeling in that first fight, but in the 12th round Max sent him to the canvas for his first defeat in professional fighting.

Louis never forgot that defeat and trained for weeks for the return bout. That training produced a Louis who was like a big lean copper spring, ready to unwind in a second, with a kick like a mule. Schmeling hit that spring only once during the entire fight. It was Louis' turn to do the hitting and Max hit the floor four times before the fight ended as Max settled slowly to his hands and knees, his tongue lolling in his head. Referee Art Donovan stopped the fight at the count of five, realizing it was hopeless to continue. Louis' 2-year score with Max had finally been settled.

No matter what your position in life, quality is important in suits at any time. At the Winter Company you will find a star line-up of "Varsity Town", "Timely", "Kuppenheimer", and many more famous names. . . . pick your summer suit for style, quality and fit. . . .
